

Feb. 10
1925

A Proclamation
of the Truce betweene his Maieſty

of Spayne, and their most Illustrious Highnesses on the one party, and the States generall of the vniited Netherlands on the other party,

Proclaymed before the Townehouse of the Citie of Antwerpe,
the 14. of Aprill, Anno. 1609.

Translated out of the Dutch, after the Copy printed at Antwerpe
by Abraham Verboeven, 1609.

BE it knowne unto all men, That to the glory and prayse of God Almighty, and to the welfare and quietnes of whole Christendome, and particularly of these Lowe Countreyes, it is agreed and concluded, betweene his Maiesty the King of Spayne, &c. and the most Illustrious Archdukes our Soueraigne Princes on th'one party, and the States generall of the united Netherlandish Provinces on the other party, a good, fast, firme, byright, true, and inuiolable Truce and Cessation of all actions of Hostility, for the time and space of twelue yeeres, aswell by Sea and other waters, as by land, in all their Kingdomes, Lands, and Dominions, and for all their subjects and Inhabitants, of what quality and condition soeuer they be, w<sup>ch</sup>, during the sayd Truce, shall henceforth agree and come, dwell and sojourne in the Lands and Countreies of one of the other; and there freely and without any molestation, to trade, traffike and vse their Commerce, aswell by Sea and other waters, as by Land, and shall repossesse their goods, as more at large doth appeare by the Articles of the sayd Truce.

And the most Illustrious Archdukes do commaund and charge all and singular being vnder their subiection and obedience, to keepe the sayd Truce inuiolably, & to do nothing contrary to the tenour of the sayd Truce, vpon payne to be punished, as Breakers of the Peace and Treaty, without any mercy, fauour, composition, conniuecy or partiality.

Imprinted at London for John Budge, and are be to sold at his shop at the great South doore of Saint Pauls Church. 1609.